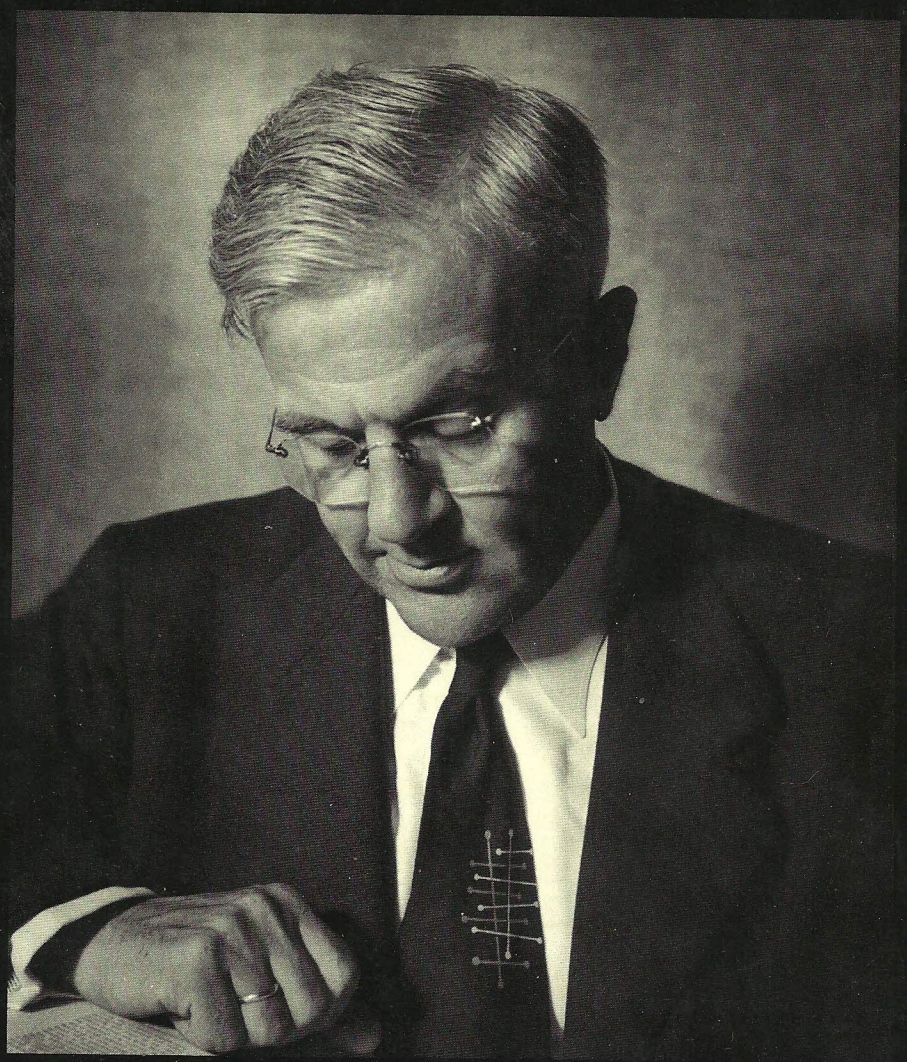
OTTO J. MAENCHEN-HELFEN

THE WORLD OF THE Huns

Studies in Their History and Culture



OTTO J. MAENCHEN-HELFEN was born in Austria in 1894, did archeological research in Central Russia, Siberia, and Mongolia in 1927-29, and was Privatdozent at the University of Berlin in 1933, when he resigned, although he might have continued his academic career under the National Socialist regime. He was Professor of Art at Mills College, Oakland, California, from 1939 to 1947, and held the same position at the University of California, Berkeley, from 1948 to his retirement in 1961.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PRESS, Berkeley, California 94720

Contents

List of Illustrations viii
Foreword xiii
Editor's Note xvi
Fragments from the Author's Preface . . . xix
Author's Acknowledgments (Fragments) . . . xxiv

I. The Literary Evidence 1
Demonization 2
Equations 5
Ammianus Marcellinus 9
Cassiodorus, Jordanes 15

II. History 18
From the Don to the Danube 18
The Huns at the Danube 26
The Invasion of Asia 51
Uldin 59
Charaton 73
Octar and Ruga 81
Attila 94
Attila's Kingdom 125
The Huns in Italy 129
Collapse and Aftermath 143
The First Gotho-Hunnic War 152
The Second Gotho-Hunnic War 162
The End 165

III. Economy 169
Camels 172
Hunnic Agriculture? 174
Housing 178

Income in Gold 180
Trade 186
Silk 188
Wine 189

IV. Society 190
Aristocracy 198
Slaves 199

V. Warfare 201
General Characteristics 201
Horses 203
Bows and Arrows 221
Swords 233
Lances 238
The Lasso 239
Armor 241
Huns in the Roman Army 255

VI. Religion 259
The Huns and Christianity 260
Seers and Shamans 267
Divine Kingship? 270
Strava 274
The Sacred Sword 278
Masks and Amulets 280
Eidola 286

VII. Art 297
Gold Diadems 297
Cauldrons 306
Mirrors 337
Personal Ornaments 354

VIII. Race 358
The Hsiung-nu 367
Europoids in East Asia 369

IX. Language 376
Speculations about the Language of the Huns . 376
Transcriptions 379
Etymologies 382
Germanized and Germanic Names . . . 386
Iranian Names 390

Turkish Names 392
Names of Undetermined Origin . . . 412
Hybrid Names 422
Tribal Names 427
Conclusions 441

X. Early Huns in Eastern Europe 444

XI. Appendixes 456
1. The Chronicle of 452 456
2. Armenian Sources 457
3. Figures in Olympiodorus 459
4. The Alleged Loss of Pannonia Prima in 395 459
5. Religious Motifs in Hunnic Art? . . . 461

XII. Background: The Roman Empire at the Time of the Hunnic Invasions, by Paul Alexander . . 464
Bibliography 486
Abbreviations 486
Classical and Medieval Register 494
Sources 503
Index 579